SPEAKER PROFILE

Dr. Bhausaheb Patil

Clinical Research Leader | Operational Excellence | Risk Based Monitoring

| Predictive Quality Management | Innovation | Connecting Data to get better Insights

| Process Transformation through Deep Learning

After completing of post-graduation in pharmaceutical sciences in 1996, He received an excellent opportunity to enter the field of clinical research in India when international clinical research was building up and talking pace. This early entry at the Clinical Trial Assistant level helped him build a solid clinical research foundation. With this humble beginning, he considers himself fortunate to have worked in various functions such as Clinical Monitoring, Clinical Operations & Project Management, Financial Management, Resource Management, Quality Management, Risk Based Monitoring approach & Decentralized Clinical Trials. He was exposed to direct line management area and interaction with senior management teams. He got a broader view of the clinical research industry from the previous world of 2B pencils and yellow sticky notes to the evolving digital & paperless technology era. The 26+ years of experience in various roles helped him get a deeper insight into Productivity, Delivery, Quality, and Technology, critical drivers associated with Clinical Research Industry. This started with the first 5-6 years, where he focused on Delivery (being an individual contributor), followed by line/people management and project/ customer/ financial management responsibilities in the subsequent 5-6 years, where he was able to hone his general management skills and keep a close watch on Productivity. During this time, he also received another excellent opportunity to attend a residential Middle Management Development program at one of the prestigious Institutes, the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, India. This program gave him management lessons and a lifetime networking opportunity with various Industries leaders and management gurus. He was presented with another exciting challenge and an equally excellent opportunity to lead a multidisciplinary regional team. His relocation to Singapore in 2008 helped him not only focus on the Quality aspect in the subsequent 5-6 years but also manage clinical operations in additional geography to understand the cultural aspect, and he must state here; all this helped to build and accelerate my professional growth across multiple dimensions.
